

MCQ

G.6.2.2. Foetal Pulmonary System

1. During the development of the lungs in the fetus, this process starts with the appearance of buds in the fetal bronchial tube. How many buds appear during a normal development?
 - a) Two
 - b) Tree
 - c) Four
 - d) Five
2. During the development of the lungs in the fetus, three buds appear in the bronchial branch. Which branch has three buds?
 - a) The right branch
 - b) The left branch
 - c) Both the left and the right branch
 - d) Neither the left or the right branch
3. During the development of the lungs in the fetus, the lungs must be made ready for immediate breathing when the baby is born. How does the fetus prepare for this event?
 - a) By breathing air through the maternal airways
 - b) By breathing blood from the umbilical veins
 - c) By breathing blood from the umbilical arteries
 - d) By breathing uterus fluid from the uterus space

Answers:

- 1) d.
- 2) a.
- 3) d.